

This book outlines the disconnect between academic achievement and real world success. According to the Pew Research Center, 45% of recent college graduates were living with family in 2011, and the numbers are rising every year. Approximately 65% of parents expect to support their kids for up to 5 years after they graduate from college. The numbers tell us the whole story: school is not preparing the majority of college students to thrive in the real world. My book provides solutions.
