

Opening up a new gym or joining a partnership that requires ownership of a gym can be one of the most rewarding experiences in the business world. Gyms can also have their pitfalls, where they continually dig themselves a hole and are unable to retreat. I have provided ten different reasons why gyms fail and how you can prevent those things from happening to your gym. With the combination of being a past employee, certified personal trainer, and possessing a heavy business background, I have provided you sufficient evidence to prove these 10 reasons to be the most common. I am certified by the National Federation of Professional Trainers, certificate number 45582. I also hold an Associates Degree of Business Management Technology, and also a Bachelors Degree of Business Administration.
